

Patient Centric Sampling Interest Group

A not-for-profit organization that brings together a variety of interested parties who wish to develop & promote the use of patient centric blood sampling technologies for the advancement of human healthcare & well-being

Clinical trial

- Understand whether home vs in-clinic blood sampling has an impact on clinical trial recruitment & retention

Diagnostics Working Group

- Publications
 - Economic use cases
 - Summary of guidelines for bridging diagnostic test with PCS
- Buyers guide

Surveys

- Clinician
- Patient

Education

- Engaging key stakeholders at international conferences
- PCSIG webinars

Contact us

- <https://www.pcsig.org/>
- contact@pcsig.org

AAPS Microsampling and Patient Centric subgroup (Part of AAPS Bioanalytical community)

Partnership with different organizations

- PCSIG
- NC3Rs
- European bioanalytical forum
- IQ consortium on patient centric sampling

Open Scientific discussion

- Foster awareness
- Share expertise across bioanalytical community
- Webinars

Team members includes

- Pharma
- CRO
- FDA
- EBF
- Consultants

Contact us

<https://community.aaps.org/communities/community-home>

Co-chairs

Shefali Patel- spatel31@its.jnj.com

Enaksha Wickremsinhe - enaksha@lilly.com

Thank-you to our Partners and Sponsors

All images are obtained from Google (creative commons licences), or from the product website

Other company and product names are trademarks of their respective owners